

Why does our hospice need to be green?

Hospice UK Trustee Conference
21 September 2023

Paul Fraser, Head of Workplace Support Programmes, Hospice UK
Emma Wright, Director of Estates & Support Services, Overgate Hospice

Integrated Care Board

Why does a Hospice need to be green?

Emma Wright

Director of Estates & Support Services

emma.wright2@overgatehospice.nhs.uk

NHS Ambition

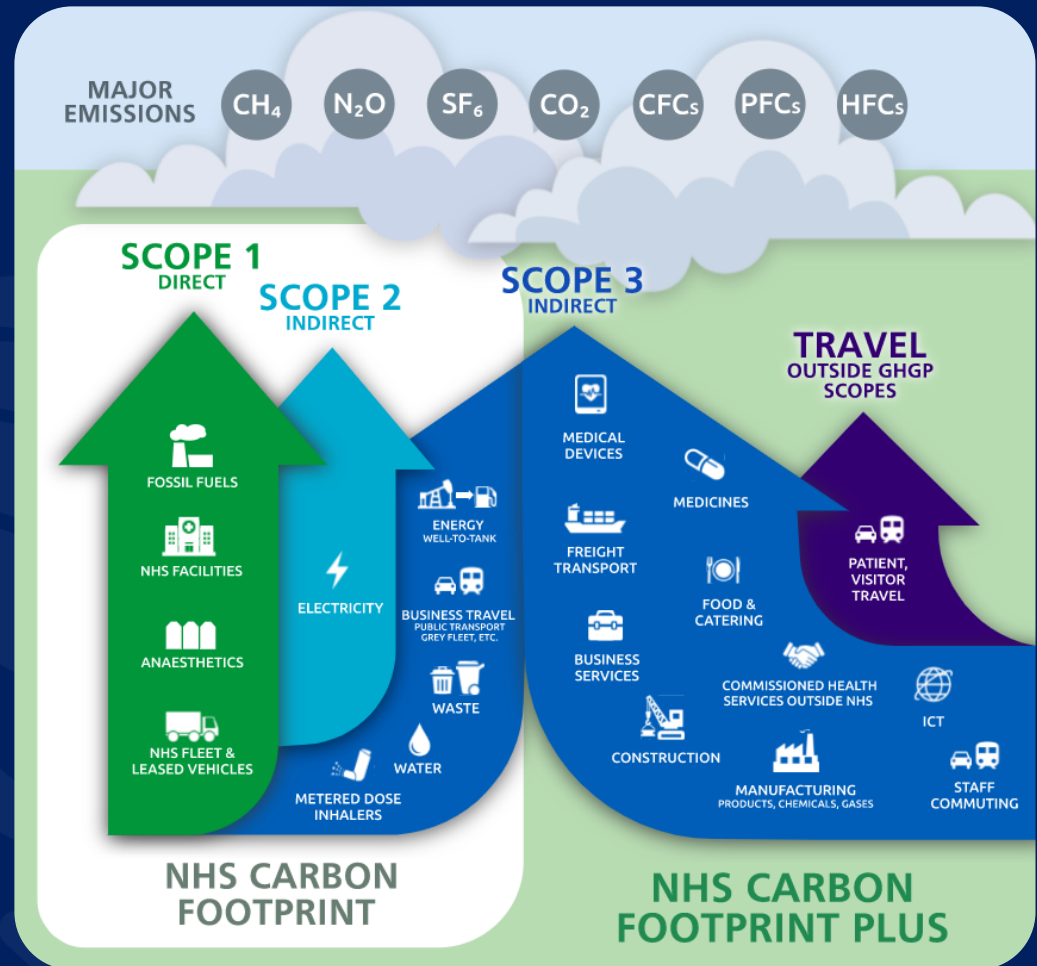

Classification: Official

Delivering a 'Net Zero' National Health Service

NHS Scope

Construction

NHS Net Zero Building Standard

Overgate Hospice Big Build

My challenges as a Director of Estates:

- Internal challenges from the Hospice point of view
- What's different from NHS
- Calderdale Collaborative
- Win:win to comply by these standards

Overgate Green Journey

Why it's a good idea

- Social value
- Impact on the community
- Reputational benefits
- Access to funding
- Partners and supporters

Any Questions?

What is Hospice UK doing to help?

Hospice UK National Conference

The Hospice UK conference takes place from 6-8 November 2023, returning to the North West at ACC Liverpool, and online.

Find out more ➔

Environmental Sustainability for Hospices Group

Our Environmental Sustainability for Hospices Group enables you to connect with and learn from other hospices. Please email us if you'd like to join.

Find out more ➔

What is Hospice UK doing to help?

3 things you can do today

1. Find out who leads your hospice's environmental sustainability work
2. Encourage them to join our Environmental Sustainability for Hospices online forum by emailing p.fraser@hospiceuk.org
3. Become your hospice's Board level Sustainability Ambassador

A photograph of an elderly Black woman with a joyful expression, wearing a light blue cardigan and a black beanie with a floral pattern. She is seated and facing a woman with brown hair whose back is to the camera. The background is a bright, out-of-focus indoor space with large windows and other people in the distance.

Thank you